

PARENT VOICE SPEECH BUBBLES,

Dear Parent and Carers,

Your child has a "learning Journey" book at school in which we stick examples of their work and observations about their learning across the Early Years curriculum. We have a section in this book entitled "Parent Voice". In this section, we would love to include contributions from home. We have included some speech bubbles which we will keep in this wallet in their reading folder. If your child has done something at home which you are proud of, you could write it on the bubble and we can stick it into their book. You could include small photos if you like.

Examples of things you may like to include:

I was really proud when .....got dressed this morning with very little help.

.....made a really detailed Lego model and was proud of their achievement.

.....loved going to their first swimming lesson and was really brave.

.....enjoys sharing stories at bedtimes, and loves "The very hungry caterpillar."

You can fill a bubble in at any time. When you fill in a bubble, please could you put it back into the wallet and we will stick it into their book. You may like to use the first speech bubble to say something about how they have settled into school.

At the end of the school year, your child will have a lovely record of the beginning of their school life and it would be great if it could contain these special little observations from home.

We have really enjoyed our first half term with the children and we wish you a happy half term.

Kind regards

The Foundation staff
